Code of Conduct:

- Prospective students/guardians are encouraged to reach out to our acting coach directly and ask any questions you feel need answered. Communication is important to us and highly encouraged.
- Blended Artists Imaginarium & Black Box Production Co. believes in giving all students access to the acting coach of the organization to help to create a more level playing field.
- All class policies must be clearly spelled out ahead of time. These policies concern what is expected of both the student and the teacher. They encompass financial obligations, general class behavior, and professionalism. Adherence to these policies is expected of the student and the teacher/staff of the organization.
- The studio shall not prohibit the students from socializing with, working with, or learning from other studios. Students, if they wish, should be allowed to take classes elsewhere simultaneously.
- Highly sexualized scenes. No inappropriate or deeply uncomfortable work in this area will be permitted. If anyone feels unsafe, they should be free to decline working on the scene, and not be punished for that.
- If a student is having financial problems, it is the expectation of the parent/guardian to communicate with our acting coach.
- Black Box Production Co. & Blended Artists Imaginarium has a zero-tolerance bullying policy, and inappropriate behavior will not be tolerated. Unapproved behavior will result in dismissal from the class.
- Anyone in a class who observes genuine abuse (verbal, physical, financial, or sexual) should report it, whether it happened to them or whether they were a witness to it.
- The student also has an obligation to be truthful in all charges of any abuse. Retribution can be a two-way street, and each side must be honest and judicious when raising any charges either in person, or on social media.

I understand the expectations and will adhere to the Code of Conduct:
